Drinkers regularly call this "adult Ribena", which is a fair shorthand: the strong blackcurrant character is similar, but with no added sugar (Ribena adds around 11g per 250ml in the standard ready to drink), no preservatives, and a full antioxidant load from the real fruit. For households cutting sugar this is a useful direct substitute. The kids who love Ribena will recognise the flavour profile and usually accept the swap, particularly if served chilled.
