Make-Ahead Everyday Brew Latte (Dairy-Free)

From the teas.co.uk wiki

This sets up a black tea latte for busy mornings: brew a strong concentrate once, keep it in the fridge, and you can pull a dairy-free latte in barely a minute any day that week. The key is using the concentrate cold, which stops plant milk curdling the way it does against fierce, hot, tannic tea.

The base tea is Teapigs Everyday Brew, a brisk black made from whole leaf. Ten minutes once, then a quick latte all week.
