

Green Tea Sorbet

From the Teas.co.uk wiki

A clean, dairy-free sorbet built on a strong, cold brew of Dragonfly Organic Pure Green Mountain, sweetened with a sugar syrup and sharpened with fresh lemon. The lemon is what keeps it bright rather than flat, and a small spoon of glucose syrup in the mix is the trick to a smooth scoop that does not turn icy in the freezer.

The key with frozen green tea is to keep the brew gentle. Made at 80C with a short three-minute steep and then chilled, the concentrate stays clean; freezing only sharpens any bitterness, so a long, hot steep would work against you here. You will need an ice cream maker for the silky texture, as without churning it sets closer to a granita.
