Iced Passionfruit and Orange Cooler

From the teas.co.uk wiki

A jug of iced fruit tea turned into a proper tropical cooler with the help of some fresh passionfruit. You brew Good Earth Passionfruit and Orange strong, with orange slices in from the start, then stir the scooped pulp of a couple of ripe passionfruit through it once it has cooled. The fresh fruit, seeds and all, lifts it well beyond a plain iced fruit tea.

The hibiscus base holds up nicely once chilled, so the colour and tartness stay even over ice. Sweeten it lightly with honey while it is still hot, and finish each glass with a little mint and a splash of sparkling water if you want it longer.
