

Iced Hot Chocolate

From the Teas.co.uk wiki

When it is too warm for a hot chocolate, this turns the same powder into a cold one. The key is to mix the powder into a smooth paste with a little hot water first, then cool it before it goes over ice, so it does not clump or water down.

Build it over ice with cold milk, then go as far as you like with cream, chocolate sauce and a scatter of cocoa nibs. Makes one tall glass.
