Tropical Green Tea Jelly

From the teas.co.uk wiki

Tropical Green Tea Jelly sets a strong brew of the mango and passion fruit green into a light, wobbly dessert studded with fresh fruit. It is refreshing and barely sweet, a grown-up version of the jelly everyone remembers and a fun way to end a meal.

Serves four. Brew the green strong but still at 80C so the base stays smooth, and set it with gelatine, or with agar agar for a vegetarian version. Either way the fruit suspends beautifully through the clear, golden jelly.
