Builder-Strength Tetley Decaf English Breakfast

From the teas.co.uk wiki

This is builder's tea with the caffeine taken out: a proper strong, malty cup made from a decaf bag, treated exactly like the regular brew. Decaf English Breakfast keeps the deep amber colour and the body, it just loses the lift.

Treat it like any builder's brew. Taking the caffeine out does not change the method, so it still wants water at a full boil and a good long steep rather than a timid one.
