Brewing Twinings Buttermint (Peppermint and Butterscotch)

From the teas.co.uk wiki

Twinings Buttermint is an unusual one: cool peppermint leaf with a sweet butterscotch note over the top, so it drinks more like a mint dessert than a plain herbal, and there is no caffeine in it. Give it a five minute steep in just-boiled water to pull out both the mint and the butterscotch.

Makes one cup. No milk needed, though a splash leans it further towards pudding.
